After discussion, the Committee agreed to immediately advise the JPLRCs that voluntary and ordered travel restrictions have been extended as outlined below.

Puget Sound Area/Washington Coast

All voluntary and ordered travel within the defined area of Puget Sound Area/Washington Coast, as outlined in Supplement IV of the PCLCD, will continue to be permitted. For the purpose of determining availability requirements for PGP benefits, only home port work opportunities will be considered during this time period. Travel outside of this defined area remains restricted.

Columbia River/Oregon Coast

Travel within the defined area of the Columbia River/Oregon Coast shall be limited to the following: ordered travel between the Ports of Portland, Vancouver, and Longview. In addition, ordered travel will continue to be permitted between the Ports of Astoria, Newport, and North Bend/Coos Bay. Voluntary travel within the defined area of Columbia River/Oregon Coast Ports, as outlined in Supplement IV of the PCLCD, remains restricted. For the purpose of determining availability requirements for PGP benefits, only home port work opportunities will be considered during this time period. Travel outside of this defined area remains restricted.

Northern California Area

All travel in Northern California Area remains restricted.

Southern California Area

All travel in Southern California Area remains restricted.

The Committee further agreed that the travel restrictions outlined above shall remain in place until February 19, 2021. The Committee shall meet to revisit the issue and determine the next appropriate steps by February 19, 2021.

Item closed.
